With more than a decade of experience in federal and state courts around the country, Mr. Pfister has tried cases to verdict before arbitrators, bankruptcy judges, and federal district judges in both bench and jury trials; prosecuted and defended appeals and requests for extraordinary writ relief (including a successful certiorari petition and merits briefing before the U.S. Supreme Court and a successful mandamus petition before the California Court of Appeal); and provided strategic litigation advice to clients that have included major financial institutions, private investment firms, property/casualty insurers, bankruptcy examiners and trustees, emerging market businesses, municipalities, and individuals.

Representative engagements include four trials in the Jefferson County, Alabama chapter 9 case (the largest municipal bankruptcy in U.S. history, until Detroit's filing); service as counsel to the examiner in the Tribune Chapter 11 cases (including assisting with the examiner's 2,000+ page report); and securing a judgment from twenty bankruptcy judges that the federal Defense of Marriage Act is unconstitutional, see In re Balas & Morales, 449 B.R. 567 (Bankr. C.D. Cal. 2011) – two years before the Supreme Court reached the same conclusion in United States v. Windsor, 133 S. Ct. 2675 (2013). Mr. Pfister presented argument to the en banc Ninth Circuit in a bankruptcy appeal concerning plan confirmation standards, see In re Flores, 735 F.3d 855 (9th Cir. 2013) (en banc), and was a principal author of: (i) the successful certiorari petition and merits briefing in Travelers Indemnity Co. v. Bailey, 557 U.S. 137 (2009) (in which the U.S. Supreme Court affirmed the finality of the confirmation order in the Johns-Manville bankruptcy case and reversed a circuit court's reexamination of the jurisdictional basis of that order 22 years after it was first issued), and (ii) the successful mandamus petition and merits briefing in Employers Reinsurance Co. v. Superior Court (Thorpe Insulation Co.), 74 Cal. Rptr. 3d 733 (Ct. App. 2008) (in which a state intermediate appellate court granted interlocutory relief reversing the trial court's evidentiary ruling on course of dealing evidence in a complex insurance coverage dispute). Other published decisions include In re Washington Mutual Securities, Derivative & ERISA Litigation, 259 F.R.D. 490 (W.D. Wash. 2009) (dismissing securities fraud allegations against corporate officers for failure to plead with requisite particularity), and 536 F. Supp. 2d 1377 (J.P.M.L. 2008) (order from Judicial Panel on Multidistrict Litigation centralizing all WaMu-related litigation in Seattle); In re NYFIX, Inc. Derivative Litigation, 567 F. Supp. 2d 306 (D. Conn. 2008) (dismissal with prejudice of options backdating lawsuit against the developer of electronic trading platforms); and American Reinsurance Co. v. U.S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 837 N.Y.S.2d 616 (App. Div. 2007) (interlocutory reversal of trial court discovery order concerning work product and attorney-client privilege in reinsurance dispute arising out of $987 million settlement).
