Giving Back

At Jaffe, we recognize the value of volunteerism and the impact that acts of kindness and leadership can have on the community and on each of us as individuals. Each year, Jaffe attorneys and staff members give countless hours of service and much-needed financial resources to a wide variety of charitable and educational organizations whose essential services make a difference in the world.

Some examples of the charities we have proudly served include area programs for women and children, the homeless, seniors, the environment, music, and the arts. Our monthly Jeans Day for Charity gives us a chance to dress more casually for a day while raising awareness of local need. And, it raises essential funds for important community organizations, as well. Several times a year we collect and donate necessities that will help someone, in some way: everything from backpacks and school supplies to items of warmth, such as coats, hats, and blankets. We have planted trees, worked at food banks, supported special needs children playing baseball, and hosted birthday parties for children's centers. Giving back to the community helps us build bonds with all of these organizations, our greater community, and each other.
