Daniel Strunk is an Associate at Keller Lenkner LLC. He represents plaintiffs in a range of matters, including antitrust, consumer protection, privacy, and product-liability cases.

Before joining Keller Lenkner, Daniel worked as a law clerk for Judge Raymond Kethledge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit and for Judge Gary Feinerman of the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois.

Daniel earned his law degree from Yale Law School, where he served as a Notes and Comments Editor of the Yale Law Journal and worked as a Coker Fellow. He also completed an externship with the United States Attorney's Office for the District of Connecticut.

Daniel earned his master's degree in political science and public policy from Trinity College Dublin as a Mitchell Scholar, and his bachelor's degree in political science and economics from Duke University as a Robertson Scholar.

In his spare time, Daniel volunteers in high school mock trial. He was a member of both Ohio's and Indiana's 2020 and 2021 case committees, where he helped to craft each state's mock case for those years. He has also served as a volunteer competition judge on numerous occasions.
