

Overview

Biography

Bernard Mosconi is a member of the Kelley Kronenberg Client Development Team. Bernard works directly with the Chief Business Development Officer, where his main focus is centered around developing new business and maintaining client relationships.

Prior to joining the firm, Bernard had a successful career as an entrepreneur which included launching several companies that continue to thrive today. He has experience in a variety of industries including, telecommunications, banking, and finance. In addition, Bernard has spent the last several years in the legal services industry applying his unique work style to enter new markets and expand market share.

Bernard graduated with honors from the University of Connecticut School of Business, where he received his Bachelor Degree in Business.

Education

- ▶ University of Connecticut School of Business, B.S., 1990