GREGG SHULKLAPPER is a seasoned corporate attorney with over twenty years of experience working with both emerging and established private and public companies as well as their investors and financial advisors. Gregg represents clients in a wide range of domestic and international transactional matters, including mergers and acquisitions, debt and equity financings, joint ventures, strategic alliances, technology licensing, business formation, corporate governance, restructurings, commercial contracts and executive employment agreements. Gregg regularly works with clients in the technology, telecom and media industries, but also represents businesses and investors in a broad array of industries, including life sciences and real estate.

Prior to launching his corporate practice, Gregg served in a senior executive position with Iris Wireless, LLC, a technology solutions provider to mobile telecom operators, where he was responsible for all aspects of the company's corporate development efforts and legal affairs.

Prior to his tenure with Iris, Gregg spent close to ten years with Willkie Farr & Gallagher, where he maintained a broad-based corporate and securities practice. At Willkie, Gregg represented clients on organizational and general business matters, venture capital and private equity investments, mergers and acquisitions, complex joint ventures and alliances, initial and secondary public offerings and private placements of debt and equity securities, bridge, mezzanine, secured and unsecured bank financings, workouts and restructurings, tender offers and Exchange Act reporting.
