

Domestic Violence/Restraining Orders

Overview

We understand the complex and sensitive nature of domestic violence issues and are here to help guide you through this difficult time. Domestic violence cases present both civil and criminal legal challenges and a combination of severe personal and emotional implications, which shouldn't be faced alone.

At Kelley Kronenberg, we are committed to treating you with the compassion, responsiveness, and personal attention you deserve, while providing effective and efficient legal representation. Our attorneys take the time to listen to the details of the situation and offer advice, guidance, and advocacy to achieve the best possible outcome that protects the rights and safety of all parties involved.

Our attorneys will take immediate action to ensure that children and adults are safe from domestic violence. We have substantial experience handling cases that involve:

- ▶ Physical abuse
- ▶ Sexual abuse
- ▶ Emotional abuse
- ▶ Psychological abuse
- ▶ Financial abuse

We offer more than just courtroom representation. Our attorneys can help you prepare child custody motions, file orders of protection for property, and obtain temporary or permanent restraining orders, including:

- ▶ Domestic violence restraining orders
- ▶ Repeat violence restraining orders
- ▶ Dating violence restraining orders
- ▶ Sexual violence restraining orders
- ▶ Stalking restraining orders
- ▶ Cyberstalking restraining orders

We take a compassionate yet strong approach on behalf of our clients who face domestic violence allegations and ensure our clients are treated fairly and are adequately represented. We are aware of the legal consequences and emotional impact these matters can have on all family members, particularly if you are subject to a restraining order that limits your access to your loved ones. We are committed to providing you with the knowledge and support you need to defend your rights and protect your reputation.

The best interests and well-being of your family are our priority. Whether you are seeking a restraining order or challenging allegations of domestic violence, our Family Law attorneys can assist.
